HUSBAND'S TAUNTS GROUND FOR DIVORCE

Wife Is Freed From Man Who Regards Her "Too Old to Work."

Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 19.—Because she proved that her husband continually taunted her, saying he would rather let her go to Norway than live with her and that she was too old to work, Judge J. A. Howell today granted Mrs. Emma Anderson an interlocutory decree of divorce from John A. Anderson. Mrs. Anderson declared that the stunts of her husband had been endured by her for the past ten years and that he had struck her. They were married at Fredericksburg, Norway, in January, 1899, and lived together up to one year ago.

On the grounds that her husband was a habitual drunkard, Mrs. Anderson was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Joseph Storer by Judge N. J. Harris today. It was stated in the evidence that Mrs. Storer was driven to a division of the community property.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, Veteran of Weber County, Is Summoned.
Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 19.—A marriage license was taken by Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, 90 years of age, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Batchelor, at 9:30 o'clock Sunday. The aged woman had been in failing health for many months.

Mrs. McDonald was born at Lendrichshire, England, May 4, 1821. Embracing the faith of the Latter-day Saints, she came to Utah in 1846, residing ever since either at Riverside or in this city. Three of the eleven children of whom she was the mother survive. There are also forty-two grandchildren and fifty-eight great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Sunday, with services at the Ninth ward meeting house, at 12 o'clock noon, Bishop W. O. Briggs conducting. The body will lie in state at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Bingham, 3146 Washington avenue, Saturday afternoon and evening and up to 11 o'clock Sunday.

SEARCH IS FRUITLESS.

Ogden Police Try to Find John McCormick Without Success.
Special to The Tribune.
OGDEN, April 19.—In an effort to inform him of an important message which was awaiting him, the police today made a fruitless search for John McCormick, who evidently is supposed to be a resident of this city. The police received the following message, addressed to John McCormick, which was sent from Bismarck, N. D.:

"Come home at once; father is dying."

"THOMAS MCCORMICK."

There are only one or two McCormicks residing in Ogden; they denied having any relatives at Bismarck. The search has been fruitless.

PROPOSITION ON TO ELECTRICITY D. & R. G.

Tennessee Pass and Soldier Summit Are the Points Being Considered.
W. J. Clark, manager of the traction department of the General Electric company of New York, arrived in this city yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the local branch of the company.

At the Hotel Utah last night Mr. Clark said: "I came out to Denver for the purpose of looking into the feasibility of a plan to electrify the Denver & Rio Grande railroad through Tennessee Pass and Soldier Summit. When I arrived at Denver I found that the president of the road had gone east so I came over here for a few days."

"Of course you understand that the purpose of looking into this proposition is to electrify the Denver & Rio Grande in a very embryonic state. We would like to convince the railroad people that it would be to their interest to have it included in the large expenditure for improvements that they have in view. It must be done gradually. The railroads are coming to a general use of electric power in the future."

"In figuring on the electrification of railroads there are many local conditions that must be taken into consideration, and you can not always make one a basis for another. While the adoption of electric power on the steep grades of the Rio Grande has been suggested for some time, the matter is not sufficiently advanced to make any definite statement regarding it. I expect to meet the president of the road on my return from here."

"The installation of electric power for local service by the large railway systems, Mr. Clark said that it is being demonstrated that a principal result is the increase of the earning capacity of suburban and local trains. Branches that did not pay under steam power are now paying under electric power. Mr. Clark said that he would like to see a plan to electrify the road to Denver on the Los Angeles limited tomorrow."

"Speaking of Salt Lake, he said: "This is a very prosperous looking city. There has been a remarkable change since I first saw it twenty-four years ago."

ENGINEERS OF UTAH ENTERTAIN GOVERNOR

The annual dinner of the Utah Society of Engineers was given at the Hotel Utah last night. The dinner was attended by twenty-five members of the society. Music was furnished by an orchestra from the Utah Conservatory of Music.

Governor Spry was the guest of honor and Dr. Joseph P. Merrill of the University of Utah presided as toastmaster. Following the address of M. D. Grosh, president of the society, toasts were responded to as follows:

"Past, Present and Future of Electricity," O. A. Homold; "Gasoline Motor Cars as a Substitute for Hand Carts in Section and Other Service Work on Railroads," R. K. Brown; "Relation Between Commercial and Domestic Engineers," G. Mackenzie; "Engineering and Engineering Societies," P. N. Nunn; "What the State Is Doing With the Public Highways," Governor Spry.

The programme of toasts was followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year. The election resulted as follows: R. K. Brown, president; E. H. Beckstead, first vice president; P. D. Tiller, second vice president; L. H. Krebs, treasurer; R. B. Ketchum, secretary.
